

My Favourite Place by Bike:

The top of Leamington Walk (near the Edinburgh Bike Co-Op) on Bruntsfield Links.

Why it's my favourite place by bike...

It's morning and I'm commuting to the daily grind at the sweatshop. No matter, I'm at the top end of Bruntsfield Links and I look out to my left and there is the magnificent vista of Edinburgh Castle in all its splendour no matter what the weather. I've got a beautiful clear off road path of freewheeling down to the Meadows whilst soaking in the views to my left. Ahead of me I see stationary traffic on Melville Drive as I take in the fresh air and the effortless roll towards my destination.

There's not a day goes by that I don't remind myself how lucky I am, appreciating the view and enjoying my morning cycle commute. Oh, and the Swedish bakery awaits my custom at the bottom of the downhill before I continue on my way....
